Pyke Opera Company.

It is all over. The Pyke Opera Company came, saw and conquered us immediately. It is undoubtedly the finest organization we have ever had here. Miss Winston, Miss Manfred and Miss Evans are all prima donnas of high grade. It is seldom that such a galaxy is found in one company. Mr. De Lange is the prince of comedians. In fact the entire company are "A No. 1."

The company open a season of five nights at Virginia Monday evening after which they play at Reno.

ALL SORTS.

—Wizard Oil at Geo. Thaxter's.

—Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine for every one in the Spring. Emigrants and travelers will find in it an effectual cure for the eruptions, boils, pimples, eczema, etc., that break out on the skin—the effect of disorder in the blood, caused by sea-diet and life on board ship.

—It is a good rule to accept only such medicines as have, after long years of trial, proved worthy of confidence. This is a case where other people's experience may be of great service, and it has been the experience of thousands that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is the best cough medicine ever used.

—Senator Powell has introduced a bill providing that the official advertising of the State can be let out to the parties who are willing to do it the cheapest. The Republican newspapers of this State will not take any official advertising at less than $2.50 a square. If this bill passes it will enable rat papers to bid $2.45 a square and get the advertising. This bill did not originate with Senator Powell, but came from some state officers who did not cover their tracks well. It ought to be called a bill to encourage rat printing, for it has no other aim.

SHAMEFUL ABUSE

Heaped upon a Noted Englishman for His Open Honesty.

WM. ED. RONSON, M. D., L. R. C. S. I., M. K. Q. C. P. I., late of the Royal Navy, of England, has got into professional trouble for writing the following open letter to the editor of the London Family Doctor:

"I believe it to be the duty of every physician to make known any means or remedy whereby sickness can be prevented, and it is for this purpose I write to give my experience both here and abroad. I ask the publication of the statement that people may be warned before it is too late, to say to them that there is at hand a means by which they may be restored to perfect health. It is well known to the medical world, and in deed, to the laity, that a certain disease is making a terrible havoc; that next to consumption it is the most fatal, and that when fully developed there is nothing to be done for the sufferer."

"Physicians and scientists have long been trying to throw light upon the cause, and if possible, find in nature a medicine for this fatal malady. They have shown, absolutely, that the blood-purifying or any of vital importance, are the kidneys, and that when they once fail, the poison which they should take out of the blood is carried by the blood into every part of the body, developing disease."

"In my hospital practice in England, India and South America, and also while a surgeon in the Royal Navy of Great Britain, I gave a great deal of attention to the study of diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs, and found that not only was the cure of chronic Bright's Disease hopeless, but that kidney disease was remarkably prevalent; much more so than generally known and was the cause of the majority of cases of sickness, and further, that the medical profession has no remedy which exerts any absolute control over these organs in disease."

"Some time ago when I had a case which resisted all regular treatment—which is very limited—complicated with the passing of stones from the kidneys, much against my will I permitted my patient to use Warner's safe cure, of which I had heard marvelous results. In his case the result was simply marvelous, as the attack was a severe one, and development very grave, for an analysis showed per cent. of albumen and granular tube casts."

"The action of the medicine was singular and incomprehensible to me. I had never seen anything like it. The patient recovered promptly, and is to-day a well and healthy man. This stimulated my inquiry into the merits of the remedy, and after analysis I found it to be of purely vegetable character, harmless to take under all circumstances."

"Casting aside all professional prejudice I gave it a thorough trial, as I was anxious that my patients should be restored to health, no matter by what medicine. I prescribed it in a great variety of cases, Acute, Chronic, Bright's Disease, Congestion of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, and in every instance did it speedily effect a cure."

"For this reason I deem it my duty to give to the world this statement regarding the value of Warner's safe cure. I make this statement on facts I am prepared to produce and substantiate. I appeal to physicians of large practice who know how common and deceptive diseases of the kidneys are, to lay aside professional prejudice, give their patients Warner's safe cure, restore them to perfect health, earn their gratitude, and thus be true physicians."

"I am satisfied that more than one-half of the deaths which occur in England are caused, primarily, by impaired action of the kidneys, and the consequent retention in the blood of the poisonous uric and kidney acid. Warner's safe cure causes the kidneys to expel this poison, checks the escape of albumen, relieves the inflammation and prevents illness from impaired and impoverished blood. Having had more than seventeen years' experience in my profession, I conscientiously and emphatically state that I have been able to give more relief and effect more cures by the use of Warner's safe cure than by all the other medicines ascertainable to the profession, the majority of which, I am sorry to say, are very uncertain in their action."

"Isn't that a straightforward, manly letter?"

"Indeed it is."

"Well, but do you know the author has been dreadfully persecuted for writing it?"

"How so? What has he done to merit it?"

"Done? He has spoken the truth 'out of school' and his fellow physicians, who want the public to think they have a monopoly in curing diseases, are terribly angry with him for admitting professional inability to reach certain disorders."

"That letter created a wonderful sensation among the titled classes and the public. This jarred the doctors terribly. The College of Surgeons and Queen's College, from which institution he was graduated, asked for an explanation of his unprofessional conduct, and notified him that unless he made a retraction they would discipline him."

"The doctor replied that he allowed his patients to make use of Warner's safe cure only after all the regular methods had failed, and when he was satisfied that there was no possible hope for them. Upon their recovery after having used Warner's safe cure, he was so much surprised that he wrote the above letter to the Family Doctor. He regretted that the faculties of both colleges replied that unless he retracted, they should cut him off, which would naturally deprive him from again practicing his profession, and also prevent his securing another appointment in the Royal Navy!"

The illustrious doctor's dilemma is certainly an unpleasant one, emphasizing as it does, both his own honesty, and the contemptible prejudice and bigotry of English medical men. The masses, however, having no sympathy with their nonsense, keep on using the remedy he so highly recommends and get well, while the rich and able depend upon the prejudiced doctors and die!

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18, 1887.

Various questions have been before Congress during the week. The Eads' Ship Railway bill has been discussed; retaliation talk towards Canada has been indulged in; the trade dollar has been vindicated so far as the House is concerned; the River and Harbor bill has been debated; the needs of the District of Columbia have had some attention; the late Senator Pike, of New Hampshire, has been the subject of memorial services in the Senate, while Gen. Logan was being eulogized in the House, and naval affairs have occupied much of the time of our law-makers in the Upper House.

The knowing ones are still busy preparing a new Cabinet slate, although it now seems conceded that the change in the Treasury portfolio is the only one that will be made. Minister Pendleton, ex-Senator McDonald and Assistant Secretary Fairchild are those oftenest mentioned as probabilities for the place. Speaker Carlisle is the latest addition to the list. He is regarded as a dangerous dark horse.

What may be done this session in regard to a new navy and coast defenses no one can say. The Senate has done nobly, and its bills appropriating millions for this purpose are at the mercy now of the Democratic House Committee on Appropriations. This all-powerful Committee, dominated by the genius of penuriousness, Mr. Samuel Randall, has shown no disposition yet to respond to the Senate's wishes, and it is more than probable that the session will slip away and leave the matter just as it stands.

When the Senate was discussing a bill for the increase of the naval establishment, Senator Vest reiterated his time worn speech about the Republican party being responsible for the present condition of the navy. Senator Hale, of Maine, who has often answered Mr. Vest's sallies on this subject, replied to him again.

He remarked that during the twenty years spoken of by the Senator from Missouri, the Republican party had only been in full control of the Government eight years. The Democrats at the other end of the Capitol had always thrown themselves athwart any proposition to strengthen the navy. He called attention to the fact that although the Republican party had lost control of the Administration, the Republican Senate was today voting liberally, and perhaps lavishly, for the navy and coast defenses, and leaving the expenditure of these vast sums in the hands of a Democratic Administration. This attitude was just in opposition to the attitude of the Democratic party for years past.

Senator Hawley, of Conn., said he welcomed an opportunity of placing money in the hands of a Democratic Administration, because during the sixteen years he had been in Congress he had heard successive Republican Secretaries of the Navy denounced and vilified beyond human endurance. The Republicans had never failed to challenge investigation; to dare accusers to put their hands on any acts of corruption on the part of their Secretaries of the Navy. There had been investigations, and they had resulted in nothing.

During the eight or ten years that the House has been in control of the Democratic party, scores of measures for the good of the country have passed the Senate, and have been consigned to the tomb of the Capulets in the House. They always met with a spirit of determined opposition and obstruction.
